THURSDAY, DECEMBER 8, 1887

FOR PRESIDENT IN 1888,
JAMES G. BLAINE,
OF MAINE.

Subject to the decision of the Republican National Convention.

"We always have the American flag above us and not below us."—James G. Blaine.

GOOD NEWS FOR REPUBLICANS.

The Sacramento Bee says:

President Grover Cleveland has written a message. We tender to him our sympathy. We congratulate the Republican party. We doff our hats to James G. Blaine, the next President of this nation. Let the voters read the Free Trade message of Grover Cleveland. Let the manufacturers read it. Let the workmen read it. Let the men who are dependent upon their daily toil for their daily bread read it. Let them know that the Democratic Moses who has brought his party out of the wilderness of twenty-four years of defeat, is the very man who to-day desires to deprive the American laboring citizen of his daily bread, who attempts to sanctify a doctrine that might leave the wives and children to the tender hands of charity. For, just so sure as Free Trade prevails in this land, just so sure will engines be stopped, just so sure will the fire go out in the forge, just so sure will the busy whirl of wheels be ended in many and many a manufacturing town of this nation, which to-day has its greatest pride in its strong, intelligent, honest and happy workers. The manufacturers of this country cannot compete with the pauper labor of foreign countries, England included. Give us Free Trade, and if the wheels ever whirl again, they will keep time to the tears of the wives of good American citizens and to the jabs of paupers imported from abroad. This is no idle, fairy tale. Every laboring man who has read knows it to be true. The gauntlet has been thrown down. It now becomes the duty of the Republican party to pick it up. It becomes its duty to nominate the champion of protection to American industries, James G. Blaine, as its standard-bearer. This is to be a fight of Protection against Free Trade—of American free labor against the servile workers from abroad. If the Republican party fails to stand up manfully in this battle it will be untrue to itself, untrue to its principles, untrue to its history and unworthy of the support of honest and independent American citizens.

Governor McGill, of Minnesota, was in Chicago Tuesday evening and, speaking of national politics, said that his State was now, in his opinion, in favor of Blaine as the next Presidential candidate, with as much vigor and earnestness as ever before. The State was Republican on principle, however, and could be relied on for 40,000 to 50,000 Republican majority, no matter who was the candidate. Governor McGill thought that Blaine could be nominated without question if he wanted the nomination, and he rather thought that would be the result of the convention.

A number of gentlemen representing the wool-growers and wool-dealers, met at the Ebbitt House, Washington, D. C., Monday night for the purpose of considering what should be done to revive the wool industry of the country. The object is to assure harmony among the different branches of the wool industry and to fix a basis of duty upon which dealers, growers and manufacturers can unite. It was the belief that Congressional action might be secured on a bill which would nearly equalize the burdens of the present tariff.

Several protests against the confirmation of Gen. Irish as Surveyor General have been forwarded to Washington within the past few days. The signers invariably request the rejection of Irish and the appointment of a Nevada Democrat to the position. The friends of T. J. Read, Harry Day, Geo. Ernst, Gott Haist, L. F. J. Winkler, and some others, are hopeful their particular friend will get the office.

The woolgrowers of Nevada should read the President's remarks on wool, and then get ready to go to Australia. the tariff on wool is removed they can not do any business in this State.

Silver, wool, borax, nitre, salt and all the other industries of Nevada must go to the wall if the Free Trade heresies of the President and his party are to prevail.

Nevada wants none of the Free Trade theories of the President or his party. Nevada should give the Republican ticket 2,500 majority next year.

The United States Supreme Court, as at present constituted, is emphatically a States Rights Court. So say Kansas and Virginia.

Hancock's local tariff letter killed him, and now Cleveland's tariff message is apt to cook his goose politically.

Prohibitionists rejoice. The Supreme Court of the United States upholds the strict laws of Kansas.

Sawdust in the Sacramento.

The Herald, published at Sisson, complains that the sawmills in that vicinity dump their sawdust into the Sacramento river and says that the law ought to prohibit such doings. We apprehend that it has greatly magnified the effect of the evil, if evil it is, and we believe that if it will examine into the matter, the Herald will find that the damage which pine sawdust does to the waters of a stream is insignificant. The matter has been discussed in this neighborhood, pro and con, as regards sawdust in the Truckee river. The result of the discussion has been to show that fish are but slightly affected by pine sawdust and that it does not render the water at all unfitted for domestic use. In this vicinity the lumber interest is more important than the fish interest. It may be that the mills on the Sacramento could dispose of their sawdust in some other way just as cheaply as by putting it into the river, and if so, they should change their method. Here it is different, as it is almost impossible to otherwise dispose of it. Legislation on the subject might do for the locality of Sisson, but it would be very detrimental to the interests here. It is unwise for the Herald to advocate indiscriminate legislation upon so important a subject.—Truckee Republican.

An Effort to be Made to Secure Swain's Retirement.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6th.—A decided effort will be made this winter to secure legislation authorizing the retirement of Judge Advocate General Swain, now undergoing a sentence of suspension for twelve years. The duties of the office are being performed by Colonel Leibes, of the Judge Advocate's corps, who has a pleasing prospect before him, unless Congress takes some action in the premises, of serving as Judge Advocate General for twelve years, without the rank or pay of the office. It is an anomalous condition of affairs, and the War Department officers are determined that it shall exist no longer, if their recommendations will have any weight with Congress. General Swain is very willing and even anxious to retire.

John W. Mackay is at the Comstock doing all he can to create a boom for everyone and a little one for himself. John is cute and has so much coin and credit he scarcely knows what to do to be happy, but there are many sufferers by stock robberies that could advise him in that regard. One thing in his favor is that he never presumed to seek a position he knew himself unable to fill. He did not buy his way into the U. S. Senate.—Tribune.
